

THURSDAY, JUNE 24, 1875.

Democratic County Ticket.

SHERIFF,
JOSEPH SPANGLER, Mount Pleasant,
CLERK OF COURTS,
ABRAHAM KING, of Straban, Lwp.,
REGISTER AND RECORDER,
NATHANIEL MILLER, Berwick, tp.,
COUNSELOR,
CHARLES ZIEGLER, of Gettysburg,
COUNCIL COMMISSIONERS,
J. E. LEAS, of Huntington township,
JOHN NUNCMAKER, of Liberty, tp.,
DIRECTOR OF THE POOR,
JOSEPH H. GELBACH, of Hanover, Lwp.,
COUNSELOR,
JACOB F. BREAM, of Cumberland,
W. HOWARD DICKS, of Bedell, tp.,
COUNSELOR,
Dr. H. W. LEEFEVILLE, of Germany, tp.,

The Butler county Republican newspapers are so full of announcements for sheriff and commissioners that two men who were crowded out have to anounce themselves in a paper in another county.

The St. Louis Republican is of the opinion that the Grant party, though fatally wounded, has still life enough in it to make it uncommonly lively for the Republican party during the next year, and possibly to put a powerful minority in the national convention.

STATE TREASURER.—A correspondent of the Harrisburg Patriot recommends John B. Bratton, Esq., of the Cavalry Volunteer, as the Democratic nominee for State Treasurer. Mr. Bratton would make a most acceptable candidate and a capital officer. He is capable and honest.

The Cincinnati Commercial says—Boss Tweed, a Democrat, is in prison, for swindling the people, while Boss Shepherd, a Republican, who did the same thing, is in high favor, with Grant, lives in a palace, and drives a fast team with his rotten wood-paneled team in Washington.

It seems certain that we are to have a bold and aggressive campaign in Pennsylvania the coming fall. The rank and file of the Democracy call for it and mean to get up the liveliest kind of a ratline along the whole line. Democratic principles are correct, and when properly understood by the people are bound to win. Forward the whole column! Adams to the front!

REPUBLICAN editors are in a peak of trouble, and are racking the files of old newspapers for Southern outrage-stories, changing names, dates, and places. They expect to have for the next campaign quite a batch with which to scare the northern people. But then, from the present political lookout, we think the people will not turn out, we cent at this or any other clump.

Rawle, the Cameron nominee for State Treasurer, joined the Republican party—if he did not join it in 1872, because he was too strong a Democrat to vote for Greeley; but when he offered to give the Ring one hundred thousand dollars to put things through next fall, lifelong Republicans were made to stand aside for the high-bidder.—Sunbury Democrat.

Gov. Bigler has said he did not desire to be a candidate for Governor. But he has not, and no patriotic man will say, that he will refuse to serve in that capacity if the Democratic State convention shall nominate him. Any man has a right to say he does not want an official place, or will not serve for it, but no one has the right to say he will not serve his country if called upon. (Applause.)

He is another patriotic carpet-bagger being persecuted—one who has been “driven from home.” The Hon. C. P. Leslie, of South Carolina, a firm believer in Grant for the presidency, “first, last, and all the time,” underbade $440,000 while Land Commissioner. For this innocent act, a sheriff started out to arrest the Hon. Mr. Leslie, who had to fly from home to preserve his liberty. Of course this is a Kuklux outrage.

The Radical Conventions held in Pittsburgh on Tuesday week, the Post says, were the most “dissident, disgraceful and outrageous ever held in Allegheny county.” The proceedings were so violent that they had to be terminated by the interference of the police, and a nomination for sheriff was not affected in consequence. The Republican papers admit that these initial troubles point to defeat at the ballot box.

The leaders of the Ring in this State are skirmishing as wide of the real question as they possibly can. They are making all kinds of promises for reform, honesty and economy for the future. But their pretensions will deceive no sensible man. The men who have been guilty of the reckless extravagance that has squandered the revenues, are not the men to be entrusted with the reform of existing abuses. They must step down and out.

It is said that ex-Governor Curtiss has written a letter to a friend stating that, under no circumstances, will he be a candidate for Governor. He does not think he could give any strength to the combined opposition, if he were the candidate, and he does not express himself as though he could get the nomination if he desired it. He is also quoted as saying he has no doubt that Hartman and Rawle will be defeated. The Governor's head is perfectly level upon the situation.

AUDITOR GENERAL TEMPLE, in reply to a question on his course in the Treasury investigation, authorizes the Patriot to state that he is now giving full aid to the subcommittee appointed by the House committee of investigation, and that he has done so from the very moment the subcommittee called upon him; and further, that in case the committee fail to make an examination which will be satisfactory to the public or conclude to abandon the work, he will himself assume the task of making a thorough investigation.

OMIO succeeds Pennsylvania as the most influential State in future elections, and the changes in Ohio this year, are unfavorable to the Republican cause. Had business revived this spring, as every body hoped, the Republicans might have had an equal chance. But the continued stagnation is certain to act against the party in power. A great Democratic victory in Ohio will turn most of the November elections against the Republican party, and in that case it will seem a matter of small moment who is the Republican candidate for the Presidency.—X. J. Herald.

THE TELEGRAPH account of the great centennial celebration of the Battle of Bunker Hill is given on our first page. The significance of the doings of the preceding day makes them quite as important and noteworthy.

The reception of the Maryland Fifth Regiment, in Boston, on Wednesday, is described as an inspiring affair. Before a crowd of fifty thousand people mostly from “Yankee-land,” the “Grand Army of the Republic” presented the Baltimore soldiers with a magnificent stand of colors. Gen. N. P. Banks making the presentation speech. Addressing Col. Jenkins, of the Fifth, he said:

It is an angelic moment, and a patriotic as well as a fraternal duty that leads you hither. To-morrow closes the century that has passed since the battle of Bunker Hill. The sixty days that elapsed after the surprise of the American army by the greater surprise of the British troops on the evening of that day, had awakened the people from their halcyon dreams of peace to the stern realities of war. The last days of the century were American. From all quarters they hurried to the new theatre of action with noble aspirations and purposes. The beleaguered British troops will know they must extend their line of defense around the limits of Boston or evacuate the town. They were evil, therefore, to occupy the heights of Charlestown.

Gen. Wm. T. Sherman was called amidst great enthusiasm, and responded by expressing the hope that all would have more kindly feelings by assembling at Bunker Hill.

Vice President Wilson and Gen. Burnside hoped the centenials now celebrated would wipe out all the hatred of the hate war, and soon unionize the elements of our country.

—All this in Boston!

The Butler county Republican newspapers are so full of announcements for sheriff and commissioners that two men who were crowded out have to anounce themselves in a paper in another county.

The St. Louis Republican is of the opinion that the Grant party, though fatally wounded, has still life enough in it to make it uncommonly lively for the Republican party during the next year, and possibly to put a powerful minority in the national convention.

STATE TREASURER.—A correspondent of the Harrisburg Patriot recommends John B. Bratton, Esq., of the Cavalry Volunteer, as the Democratic nominee for State Treasurer. Mr. Bratton would make a most acceptable candidate and a capital officer. He is capable and honest.

The Cincinnati Commercial says—Boss Tweed, a Democrat, is in prison, for swindling the people, while Boss Shepherd, a Republican, who did the same thing, is in high favor, with Grant, lives in a palace, and drives a fast team with his rotten wood-paneled team in Washington.

It seems certain that we are to have a bold and aggressive campaign in Pennsylvania the coming fall. The rank and file of the Democracy call for it and mean to get up the liveliest kind of a ratline along the whole line. Democratic principles are correct, and when properly understood by the people are bound to win. Forward the whole column! Adams to the front!

REPUBLICAN editors are in a peak of trouble, and are racking the files of old newspapers for Southern outrage-stories, changing names, dates, and places. They expect to have for the next campaign quite a batch with which to scare the northern people. But then, from the present political lookout, we think the people will not turn out, we cent at this or any other clump.

Rawle, the Cameron nominee for State Treasurer, joined the Republican party—if he did not join it in 1872, because he was too strong a Democrat to vote for Greeley; but when he offered to give the Ring one hundred thousand dollars to put things through next fall, lifelong Republicans were made to stand aside for the high-bidder.—Sunbury Democrat.

Gov. Bigler has said he did not desire to be a candidate for Governor. But he has not, and no patriotic man will say, that he will refuse to serve in that capacity if the Democratic State convention shall nominate him. Any man has a right to say he does not want an official place, or will not serve for it, but no one has the right to say he will not serve his country if called upon. (Applause.)

He is another patriotic carpet-bagger being persecuted—one who has been “driven from home.” The Hon. C. P. Leslie, of South Carolina, a firm believer in Grant for the presidency, “first, last, and all the time,” underbade $440,000 while Land Commissioner. For this innocent act, a sheriff started out to arrest the Hon. Mr. Leslie, who had to fly from home to preserve his liberty. Of course this is a Kuklux outrage.

The Radical Conventions held in Pittsburgh on Tuesday week, the Post says, were the most “dissident, disgraceful and outrageous ever held in Allegheny county.” The proceedings were so violent that they had to be terminated by the interference of the police, and a nomination for sheriff was not affected in consequence. The Republican papers admit that these initial troubles point to defeat at the ballot box.

The leaders of the Ring in this State are skirmishing as wide of the real question as they possibly can. They are making all kinds of promises for reform, honesty and economy for the future. But their pretensions will deceive no sensible man. The men who have been guilty of the reckless extravagance that has squandered the revenues, are not the men to be entrusted with the reform of existing abuses. They must step down and out.

It is said that ex-Governor Curtiss has written a letter to a friend stating that, under no circumstances, will he be a candidate for Governor. He does not think he could give any strength to the combined opposition, if he were the candidate, and he does not express himself as though he could get the nomination if he desired it. He is also quoted as saying he has no doubt that Hartman and Rawle will be defeated. The Governor's head is perfectly level upon the situation.

AUDITOR GENERAL TEMPLE, in reply to a question on his course in the Treasury investigation, authorizes the Patriot to state that he is now giving full aid to the subcommittee appointed by the House committee of investigation, and that he has done so from the very moment the subcommittee called upon him; and further, that in case the committee fail to make an examination which will be satisfactory to the public or conclude to abandon the work, he will himself assume the task of making a thorough investigation.

OMIO succeeds Pennsylvania as the most influential State in future elections, and the changes in Ohio this year, are unfavorable to the Republican cause. Had business revived this spring, as every body hoped, the Republicans might have had an equal chance. But the continued stagnation is certain to act against the party in power. A great Democratic victory in Ohio will turn most of the November elections against the Republican party, and in that case it will seem a matter of small moment who is the Republican candidate for the Presidency.—X. J. Herald.

THE TELEGRAPH account of the great centennial celebration of the Battle of Bunker Hill is given on our first page. The significance of the doings of the preceding day makes them quite as important and noteworthy.

The reception of the Maryland Fifth Regiment, in Boston, on Wednesday, is described as an inspiring affair. Before a crowd of fifty thousand people mostly from “Yankee-land,” the “Grand Army of the Republic” presented the Baltimore soldiers with a magnificent stand of colors. Gen. N. P. Banks making the presentation speech. Addressing Col. Jenkins, of the Fifth, he said:

It is an angelic moment, and a patriotic as well as a fraternal duty that leads you hither. To-morrow closes the century that has passed since the battle of Bunker Hill. The sixty days that elapsed after the surprise of the American army by the greater surprise of the British troops on the evening of that day, had awakened the people from their halcyon dreams of peace to the stern realities of war. The last days of the century were American. From all quarters they hurried to the new theatre of action with noble aspirations and purposes. The beleaguered British troops will know they must extend their line of defense around the limits of Boston or evacuate the town. They were evil, therefore, to occupy the heights of Charlestown.

Gen. Wm. T. Sherman was called amidst great enthusiasm, and responded by expressing the hope that all would have more kindly feelings by assembling at Bunker Hill.

Vice President Wilson and Gen. Burnside hoped the centenials now celebrated would wipe out all the hatred of the hate war, and soon unionize the elements of our country.

—All this in Boston!

The Butler county Republican newspapers are so full of announcements for sheriff and commissioners that two men who were crowded out have to anounce themselves in a paper in another county.

The St. Louis Republican is of the opinion that the Grant party, though fatally wounded, has still life enough in it to make it uncommonly lively for the Republican party during the next year, and possibly to put a powerful minority in the national convention.

STATE TREASURER.—A correspondent of the Harrisburg Patriot recommends John B. Bratton, Esq., of the Cavalry Volunteer, as the Democratic nominee for State Treasurer. Mr. Bratton would make a most acceptable candidate and a capital officer. He is capable and honest.

The Cincinnati Commercial says—Boss Tweed, a Democrat, is in prison, for swindling the people, while Boss Shepherd, a Republican, who did the same thing, is in high favor, with Grant, lives in a palace, and drives a fast team with his rotten wood-paneled team in Washington.

It seems certain that we are to have a bold and aggressive campaign in Pennsylvania the coming fall. The rank and file of the Democracy call for it and mean to get up the liveliest kind of a ratline along the whole line. Democratic principles are correct, and when properly understood by the people are bound to win. Forward the whole column! Adams to the front!

REPUBLICAN editors are in a peak of trouble, and are racking the files of old newspapers for Southern outrage-stories, changing names, dates, and places. They expect to have for the next campaign quite a batch with which to scare the northern people. But then, from the present political lookout, we think the people will not turn out, we cent at this or any other clump.

The St. Louis Republican is of the opinion that the Grant party, though fatally wounded, has still life enough in it to make it uncommonly lively for the Republican party during the next year, and possibly to put a powerful minority in the national convention.

STATE TREASURER.—A correspondent of the Harrisburg Patriot recommends John B. Bratton, Esq., of the Cavalry Volunteer, as the Democratic nominee for State Treasurer. Mr. Bratton would make a most acceptable candidate and a capital officer. He is capable and honest.

The Cincinnati Commercial says—Boss Tweed, a Democrat, is in prison, for swindling the people, while Boss Shepherd, a Republican, who did the same thing, is in high favor, with Grant, lives in a palace, and drives a fast team with his rotten wood-paneled team in Washington.

It seems certain that we are to have a bold and aggressive campaign in Pennsylvania the coming fall. The rank and file of the Democracy call for it and mean to get up the liveliest kind of a ratline along the whole line. Democratic principles are correct, and when properly understood by the people are bound to win. Forward the whole column! Adams to the front!

REPUBLICAN editors are in a peak of trouble, and are racking the files of old newspapers for Southern outrage-stories, changing names, dates, and places. They expect to have for the next campaign quite a batch with which to scare the northern people. But then, from the present political lookout, we think the people will not turn out, we cent at this or any other clump.

The St. Louis Republican is of the opinion that the Grant party, though fatally wounded, has still life enough in it to make it uncommonly lively for the Republican party during the next year, and possibly to put a powerful minority in the national convention.

STATE TREASURER.—A correspondent of the Harrisburg Patriot recommends John B. Bratton, Esq., of the Cavalry Volunteer, as the Democratic nominee for State Treasurer. Mr. Bratton would make a most acceptable candidate and a capital officer. He is capable and honest.

The Cincinnati Commercial says—Boss Tweed, a Democrat, is in prison, for swindling the people, while Boss Shepherd, a Republican, who did the same thing, is in high favor, with Grant, lives in a palace, and drives a fast team with his rotten wood-paneled team in Washington.

It seems certain that we are to have a bold and aggressive campaign in Pennsylvania the coming fall. The rank and file of the Democracy call for it and mean to get up the liveliest kind of a ratline along the whole line. Democratic principles are correct, and when properly understood by the people are bound to win. Forward the whole column! Adams to the front!

REPUBLICAN editors are in a peak of trouble, and are racking the files of old newspapers for Southern outrage-stories, changing names, dates, and places. They expect to have for the next campaign quite a batch with which to scare the northern people. But then, from the present political lookout, we think the people will not turn out, we cent at this or any other clump.

The St. Louis Republican is of the opinion that the Grant party, though fatally wounded, has still life enough in it to make it uncommonly lively for the Republican party during the next year, and possibly to put a powerful minority in the national convention.

STATE TREASURER.—A correspondent of the Harrisburg Patriot recommends John B. Bratton, Esq., of the Cavalry Volunteer, as the Democratic nominee for State Treasurer. Mr. Bratton would make a most acceptable candidate and a capital officer. He is capable and honest.

The Cincinnati Commercial says—Boss Tweed, a Democrat, is in prison, for swindling the people, while Boss Shepherd, a Republican, who did the same thing, is in high favor, with Grant, lives in a palace, and drives a fast team with his rotten wood-paneled team in Washington.

It seems certain that we are to have a bold and aggressive campaign in Pennsylvania the coming fall. The rank and file of the Democracy call for it and mean to get up the liveliest kind of a ratline along the whole line. Democratic principles are correct, and when properly understood by the people are bound to win. Forward the whole column! Adams to the front!

REPUBLICAN editors are in a peak of trouble, and are racking the files of old newspapers for Southern outrage-stories, changing names, dates, and places. They expect to have for the next campaign quite a batch with which to scare the northern people. But then, from the present political lookout, we think the people will not turn out, we cent at this or any other clump.

The St. Louis Republican is of the opinion that the Grant party, though fatally wounded, has still life enough in it to make it uncommonly lively for the Republican party during the next year, and possibly to put a powerful minority in the national convention.

STATE TREASURER.—A correspondent of the Harrisburg Patriot recommends John B. Bratton, Esq., of the Cavalry Volunteer, as the Democratic nominee for State Treasurer. Mr. Bratton would make a most acceptable candidate and a capital officer. He is capable and honest.

The Cincinnati Commercial says—Boss Tweed, a Democrat, is in prison, for swindling the people, while Boss Shepherd, a Republican, who did the same thing, is in high favor, with Grant, lives in a palace, and drives a fast team with his rotten wood-paneled team in Washington.

It seems certain that we are to have a bold and aggressive campaign in Pennsylvania the coming fall. The rank and file of the Democracy call for it and mean to get up the liveliest kind of a ratline along the whole line. Democratic principles are correct, and when properly understood by the people are bound to win. Forward the whole column! Adams to the front!

REPUBLICAN editors are in a peak of trouble, and are racking the files of old newspapers for Southern outrage-stories, changing names, dates, and places. They expect to have for the next campaign quite a batch with which to scare the northern people. But then, from the present political lookout, we think the people will not turn out, we cent at this or any other clump.

The St. Louis Republican is of the opinion that the Grant party, though fatally wounded, has still life enough in it to make it uncommonly lively for the Republican party during the next year, and possibly to put a powerful minority in the national convention.

STATE TREASURER.—A correspondent of the Harrisburg Patriot recommends John B. Bratton, Esq., of the Cavalry Volunteer, as the Democratic nominee for State Treasurer. Mr. Bratton would make a most acceptable candidate and a capital officer. He is capable and honest.

The Cincinnati Commercial says—Boss Tweed, a Democrat, is in prison, for swindling the people, while Boss Shepherd, a Republican, who did the same thing, is in high favor, with Grant, lives in a palace, and drives a fast team with his rotten wood-paneled team in Washington.

It seems certain that we are to have a bold and aggressive campaign in Pennsylvania the coming fall. The rank and file of the Democracy call for it and mean to get up the liveliest kind of a ratline along the whole line. Democratic principles are correct, and when properly understood by the people are bound to win. Forward the whole column! Adams to the front!

REPUBLICAN editors are in a peak of trouble, and are racking the files of old newspapers for Southern outrage-stories, changing names, dates, and places. They expect to have for the next campaign quite a batch with which to

